AFRICKA CONTAINS DOZENS OF VIETNAMS

The recent flap when South Africa stated the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, Andrew Young, was persona non grata in that country due to his agitation in the uprisings that are wracking the Black Continent, only added more puzzlement to the question in a lot of people's minds as to what was President Carter thinking about when he appointed this popoff type to that position in the first place. Optimists viewed this as a clever trick to pull the strings of some of the Third World, especially black critics who seem to think every thing wrong with the World is due to malice aforethought on the part of the United States. Its hard to tell, but it seems Young is bound and determined to involve us in Africa's tribulations, so let's take a look at 'em.

One of our colleagues kidded us recently when we suggested that Africa was by way of being the site of World War III, but we told him, take a look, it's already purty well underway. For starters, we all know about the Angolan war, which is still going on with

U.S. Cattle Imports Sharply Higher As Mexico Exports Up

U.S. imports of live cattle running well above a year ago, with increases in imports from Mexico more than offsetting a cutback in imports from Canada. In February, over-all cattle imports totaled 64,081 head, up 28% from a year earlier. But, while those from Mexico totaled 37,604 head, nearly double the February 1976 total, imports from Canada totaled only 26,415, down 20% from a year earlier.

The Jan.-Feb. total, at 170,211 head, is up 19% from a year earlier. But, Mexico's total of 115,598 was up nearly 60% from a year earlier, while Canada's total, at 54,704, is off 22% from a year earlier.

Moreover, though sheep and lamb imports from Canada totaled 1,059 during Jan.-Feb. 1976, none were imported during the first two months of this year. On the other hand, hog imports during Feb. totaled 2,606, up 88% from a year earlier. And, Jan.-Feb. hog imports totaled 5,606 head, up 88% from a year earlier, all from Canada. Feed Grains acreage (corn, sorghum, oats and barley) is expected to total 129.3 million acres, nearly equal to last year. Durum wheat plantings are expected to total 3.3 million acres, down 81%

11th Federal Reserve District Cites Low Farm, Livestock Prices, Coupled With Rising Costs of Production

(EDITOR'S NOTE: There have been numerous reports recently that some farmers and ranchers have encountered difficulty in obtaining financing from their usual local banking sources. The following summary of the situation released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas addresses this problem.)

The overall availability of funds at rural banks across the Eleventh District has tightened slightly in the past 12 months. Loans have increased much faster than deposits in areas where wheat production, cattle feeding, and commercial operations are major agricultural enterprises. Low prices and rising production expenses have severely limited the cash flows of many farmers and ranchers, and the rate of loan repayment has been slow.

Responses from approximately 185 agricultural banks to a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas in early April indicate a slight decrease in the supply of loanable funds. In April last year, 39% of the bankers reported greater than usual availability of funds and 7% reported fewer funds. In the latest survey, 34% indicated greater than usual funds, while 12% indicated less funds.

The squeeze on loanable funds for servicing farm and ranch credit needs is exemplified by the rise in loan-deposit ratios at the survey banks. The ratio of loans to deposits averaged 50%, a percentage points more than in April 1976. The highest average loan-deposit ratios were reported in the northern High Plains, East Texas timber region, and Coastal Bend of Texas, along with northern Louisiana and southern New Mexico. There has been a notable increase in the number of banks moving into the category of those with loan-deposit ratios over 60 percent. In the latest survey, 48% of the banks had loan-deposit ratios that exceeded 60%, compared with 44% in January and 37% a year earlier. And too, data from a selected group of Texas banks heavily engaged in agricultural lending indicate loans in March were up 19% from a year earlier and deposits were up 10%.

Another indication that many bankers in the District are apparently having problems relative to servicing the general rise in loan demand in the growing number of referrals to nonbank credit agencies. While the number of participations with correspondent banks has changed little from a year earlier, referrals to nonbank credit agencies have risen markedly. Such referrals were highest in the northern and southern High Plains, the Trans-Pecos region, South Texas, and the Coastal Bend of Texas. With the imbalance between loans and deposits,

Cow Slaughter Still At High Rate

was reported at 800,000 head, up 1% from a year earlier. For the first 3 months of the year, the total was 2,582,000 head, or 8% less than a year earlier. Drought has forced cattlemen in a number of areas, especially the West Coast states, to sell cows, said W. C. Finney, ANCA president. As a result, total cow slaughter is expected to be slightly ahead of earlier expectations, and the total for the year is expected to be more than 9 million head. This would be substantially less than in 1975 and 1976, but it would represent a continuation of the reduction phase of the current cattle cycle. The economist with Cattle-Pax, the national information on cow slaughter, said information on cow slaughter for 1977 is a continuing ANCA/Cattle-Pax program to keep the industry informed of trends in cow herd size. It now appears that the cow herd next Jan. 1 will be down by at least 1 million head from the total of 9.5 million on Jan. 1, 1977. This will mean continuing declines in per capita supplies of beef in the next few years, in terms of beef supplies, the effect of the most recent cow herd reduction will not be fully felt for at least one to two years.

that Govmint sayin' South Africa & Zaire are backin' their still active rebels. We all know about th' attack on Zaire, by Tanganyika from Angola. We also know that th' Zaire Govmint now involves help from France, th' U.S., Morocco, as well as Uganda, Sudan and Central African Republic who offered or gave Zaire aid.

Consider Ethiopia, Carier cutoff arms aid, which caused them to kick most of th' American Govmint people out. Reason? Well th' present Govmint in Ethiopia got there and stays by kill-bases. We also know that th' Zaire Govmint now involves help from France, th' U.S., Morocco, as well as Uganda, Sudan and Central African Republic who offered or gave Zaire aid.

thousands. There are two native Ethiopian rebel groups after th' Govmint's aid, th' Ethiopian Peoples Revolutionary Party and Ethiopian Democratic Union, in addition Somalia and Sudan aid & abet these and threaten to intervene at any time. Now 800 to 400 Cubans are reported active there.

Th' explosive and bloody conditions in and around Rhodesia and South and Southwest Africa are also well known, but consider th' Congo. This has been th' site of bloody action ever since th' was turned over to th' natives and th' change aint settled down, jist recently President Nagouabi and th' Arch Bishop of Brazzaville were assassinated and th' turmoil continues with dusk to dawn curfew, etc.

Another fantastic Affrican trouble spot is Western Sahara. Recall when Spain threw in th' towel and left this phosphate rich land up for grabs? Well Mauritania are still pulling & pushing over it and there is a group called Polisario guerrillas fightin' there, would you believe they have a base estimated at 40 military advisers in North Korea? At this time there are members of th' Chad National Liberation Front on trial in Ndjamena, Chad charged with plotting th' assassination of President Fokk Malloum.

This is jist a small list of th' troubles in Affrica, and th' prospects are limitless as Russia, Cuba, China and various other countries around th' World includin' th' United States, do think of keep messin' in th' mess over there.

One thang is obviously certain, thangs will be much worse, before they get any better and if ever there was a situation which fitted th' old time respondent's description of a "Cool nent Afflane and Awash in Blood," Affrica has to be it.

It will be interestin' to see what kind of additional fuel our U.N. Ambassador Young will add on to the next visit, but will be titillating indeed if South Africa throws th' U.S. Ambassador in jail for trespassing if he struts in where he is wanted. Jist what number history will tack onto th' Affrican War, we can know, but th' war is on, all over it place!

Ever thine, The Editor.

P.S. Uncle Dunk says you can expect th' Nuke Kooks to come out with comic book type bit of propaganda similar to one th' anti-nuclear crowd has out in Australia. They have printed a bunch of weirdo animals called Kangamu, a cross between a kangaroo and a duck, and one called th' Cockaroo, th' idea bein' to stamp out th' people with fear these weird mutations might result as a result of nuclear power development. U.S. Nuke Kooks are askin' permission to copy th' Assay tricker's ideas. Dunk says reports from Washington indicate th' Carter Crew pecking order is shapin' up. Nan House is assistant president for White House & other afffairs, and Bert Low as th' real Power behind th' Thine. Needless to say there's dozens of very unhappy folks around & about Thassall, Brothel.

Replacement Cattle Steady to $2 Off, Lights off Most

Kansas City, May 6 (USDA) — National Feeder Cattle and Calf Summary, approximately 238,000 this week.

Approximately 238,000 this week. Feeder cattle and calves sold steady to 2.00 lower at many of the important producing and marketing points.

Exceptions were Dodge City yearling heifers 50-100 higher and Dodge City and Wyoming calves steady 1.50 higher. Weights under 800 lbs. showed most of the decline.

The yearly week hesitancy in the slaughter cattle market made for caution on the part of fleshy and partly fattened yearling buyers and these were also moderately priced. General rates through the mountains and the plains enthused cattle growers and in some areas the exodus was underway due to dryness was halted.

TEXAS RED ANGUS NEWS

Junior Association For Texas Red Angus May Be Formed At Inez May 28

Inez, Texas — The Texas Red Angus Association's annual meeting will be held at the Owen Colle Ranch near Inez, South Texas, on Saturday, May 28, during which discussion and probable formation of a Texas Junior Red Angus Association will be held.

If such a junior association is formed in Texas it will be the first state junior association in the U.S.

Jim Bauer of Winnie, Texas, who is now a Red Angus breeder, but was earlier a junior member of the Red Angus Assn. of America, is a strong worker with ARAA Juniors, is one of the strong backers of the effort to establish a Texas junior association.

Other activities of the annual meeting will be discussion of the feasibility of dividing the Texas Red Angus Association into two units because of the geographical size of the state to make association activities more workable for officers and directors, who now find it difficult to meet regularly.

L. E. Goleman, Jr., Jacksonville, president of Texas Red Angus Assn., said that at the present it is almost impossible for a quorum of directors to get together more than once a year.

"We need to have quarterly meetings, and a smaller area with less travel involved might permit more frequent meetings," Goleman said.

In the event the members decide to divide the state into two associations, boundaries of divisions would be established, and officers and directors of the two new associations elected at the Inez meeting, said Mike Sweet, executive director of Red Angus Association of America, Denton.

Gregg County Rancher Named "Build East Texas" Chairman

V. A. (Bill) Clements, Jr., Longview rancher, has been named chairman of the 38 county build East Texas economic growth program. Clements, one of the original organizers of BET, has been active in boosting East Texas agriculture for many years. Jerry Nichols, Nacogdoches, was named vice-chairman and Scott Harris, Henderson, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected at the annual BET meeting include: Wells Burton, Longview; Ed Waggoner, Lufkin; Jack Dillard, Wadsworth; Elmer Ray Oates, Woodville; Jim Peters, Livingston; Harvey Loupee, Daingerfield; C. B. Richards, San Augustine; Curtis Conner, Daingerfield; and Marvin Waddleton, Tyler.

Each chairman of the nine BET multi-county groups will also serve on the executive committee.

"Red Baldy" Certificates Now Available

Denton, Texas — Certification of Red Baldy cattle by the Red Angus Association of America is now a reality and such certificates are being issued to any breeder who uses a registered Red Angus bull in his Hereford herd.

Mike Sweet, executive director of the ARAA, said lots of inquiries have already been received from the far West and Midwest, and a sprinkling of interest has been shown from breeders in the Southwest.

The certificates will be used by Hereford breeders using Red Angus bulls to positively identify feeder cattle and replacement heifers as having been sired by a Red Angus bull, giving the calves the hybrid vigor, milking ability, higher weaning weights, and faster, more efficient gaining ability. Black Baldy calves sired by Black Angus bull on Hereford cows traditionally command a premium of $2.00 to $4.00 cwt. above market prices for straight Hereford feeder calves because of their faster and more efficient gaining ability. Certification of Red Baldies is intended to do the same for calves sired by Red Angus bulls, but which retain a more Hereford-like coloring.

"The certificates are free, and are to be passed from hand-to-hand when a Red Baldy animal is traded, going direct from the producer to the next owner, and so on eventually to the packer," Sweet said.

Commercial calf producers using Red Angus bulls on Hereford cows may obtain the certificates by contacting the Red Angus Assn. of America, Box 778, Denton, Texas 76201, phone 817/887-3802.

Upon accepting the chairmanship, Clements challenged the crowd of more than 150 to strengthen the leadership of East Texas agriculture and become actively involved in solving problems and taking advantage of opportunities.

Clements noted five situations that are currently exerting influence on East Texas agriculture. "It has been predicted that petroleum from known reserves will be depleted in 30 years," he pointed out. "From the hydrocarbon industry, we currently get fertilizer, chemicals, feeds, equipment utilization, transportation, plastics and much of our processing. Can we make the agricultural system as we know it now work without this source of energy?" he asked.

"Secondly," Clements said, "in less than 90 years, at the current rate of six percent inflation, ground meat will retail for $4.87 per pound, with labor being more than one-half the cost to the retailer. A current income of $10,000 will need to be $45,000 just to keep up." Clements asked the group how much more will farm margin suffer as the result of this inflation?

The new chairman said that unless legislation out of existence, co-ops will take over agricultural production, supply and available money. "Cooperatives in this country currently market 37 percent of the cotton, 80 percent of dairy products, 41 percent of the grain, 10 percent of the livestock and 15 percent of the poultry. Co-ops also furnish or sell 40 percent of the chemicals, 42 percent of the fertilizer, 40 percent of the petroleum products and 10 percent of the farm equipment," Clements said. "Where will non-farming agricultural areas such as the BET area sell their products and buy their goods and services?"

The fourth situation pointed out by Clements was world hunger. "Foreign markets now take one in three of the harvested acres in this country," he calculated. "Grain supplies exert inordinate influence on total food supply fluctuation and beef markets. With hungry nations and world weather keep agriculture in a state of flux and uncertainty?"

Clements predicted that financing is becoming a higher risk and that more total capital is being required per production unit. "At the same time, capital inputs such as fertilizer, fuel and labor are becoming scarcer," he said. "Will today's agricultural programs work under tomorrow's conditions?"

Dr. Phil Gramm, keynote speaker, pointed out that during the past 10 years, the retail price index is up 74 percent and the wholesale price index has risen 87 percent. "We will not stop inflation until we balance the budget," he noted. "Economic prediction of the future of agriculture is good; however, problems will continue to arise and producers must be willing to meet them."

The Big Red Ones...
"Commercially Speaking"

As a commercial seed stock producer you are looking for net results in a crossbreeding program. The net results that mean the most are summed up with one word, profit.

Red Angus are "big" on performance. In fact, that's what they're all about and registered Red Angus bulls are sold with a certificate which states exactly how they have performed from birth to yearlings.

What's more, Red Angus bulls are naturally polled in addition to being red in color. If there was ever a color in the world that related to performance, it is red.

If you are looking for profitable performance, then you're looking for The Big Red One...

Red Angus Association Announces National Show, Sale and Convention Schedule

Denton, Tx. — The North American Livestock Exposition at Louisville, Kentucky has been selected by the Red Angus Association of America Board of Directors as the site for the breed's 1977 National Convention, Show and Sale, announced RAAA President Ken Thatcher.

In making the announcement, Thatcher explained that this will be the first time for Red Angus National activities to be held in the Eastern United States.

The week long National scheduled will begin on Monday, Nov. 14, 1977 with the cattle arriving at Louisville. The 24th National Convention will begin on Wednesday, Nov. 16, and will be followed by National show, competition of Red Angus cattle on the morning of Friday, Nov. 18. The Grand Finale will be the National Sale of The Big Red Ones Friday evening.

An additional highlight of the 1977 National Red Angus events will be a National Junior Red Angus Association Show on Thursday, Nov. 17.

RAAA Executive Director Mike Sweet stated, "This convention, show and sale will bring all three of the annually sponsored events together at one time and one place." For the last several years the events were held separately. The last National Sale was held at Justin, Texas on October 10, 1975.

"The 1977 National Show will incorporate and utilize all available performance data in addition to the appraisal as judging criteria," Sweet explained. "The final results should be a unique event in Red Angus history," he said.

The Eastern Region Red Angus Association, comprised of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Michigan, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, Tennessee, and North Carolina, will host and co-sponsor the National activities.

six months to complete. Aim of the program is to concentrate all operations in a more compact area to provide more efficient operations for buyers, sellers and market agencies.

The plan calls for moving the hog and sheep divisions onto stockyards property north of Exchange Ave., and adjacent to the cattle division. This will leave the present hog and sheep areas open for future development in conjunction with the huge re-development of the Stockyards area which has been underway for months in cooperation with the City of Fort Worth and federal agencies, and the North Fort Worth Business Association.

When complete the inbound and outbound loading docks will be on the North side of the present facility, with access conveniently off the extension of 26th Street to be built. Moving the outbound cattle docks to the new location will enable a large area to be cleared for passenger car parking.

Work is already underway on new cattle pens and the covered hog and sheep pens will be on the West side of the new facility. Truck parking will be just North of the new loading chute. Installation of new sanitary and storm drainage will be a major part of the project.

One of the new features at the yards will be construction of an overhead walkway running north and south from the loading docks to the Livestock Exchange Building and the Auction Arena.

Bulls Being Performance Tested For SW Pinzgauer Sale In Dallas Oct. 16

Gainesville, Texas — A new set of Pinzgauer bulls started on official 140-day performance test at the Cooke County College Beef Cattle Evaluation Center here May 1, and some of the bulls will be featured in the Southwestern Region of American Pinzgauer Assn. sale at the State Fair of Texas Oct. 16.

A total of about 40 head of all percentages of Pinzgauer cattle will be offered in the Oct. 16 sale with select breeding stock coming from consignors all over the nation.

Dick Kellett, Springtown, Texas, sale chairman, said breeders interested in consigning cattle to the sale should contact him as soon as possible so that the nominated cattle can be screened to assure prospective buyers of a "strictly elite" offering of Pinzgauer cattle.

The Southwestern Region's annual meeting is being planned to be held at Dallas in association with the sale.

Kellett said several half and three-quarter blood Pinzgauer bulls are in the Gainesville gain test, and complete performance data will be furnished on them at the sale.

The sale will be managed by the Southwestern Region of APA and Stanley Stout, Linwood, Kan., will be the auctioneer.

To consign Pinzgauer cattle to the sale or for further information on it contact Dick Kellett, P. O. Box 782, Asle, Texas 76020, phone 817/677-2943.

Pinzgauer Field Day Set May 28, Duluth, Georgia

Duluth, Ga. — The annual Field Day of the American Pinzgauer Assn. will be held at Duluth, just north of Atlanta, Ga., on Saturday, May 28.

"Anyone who is interested in Pinzgauer cattle — a breed rapidly becoming famous for its efficient feed conversion — should attend this field day," said Emmett Carter, secretary of the American Pinzgauer Assn.

For further information or assistance with reservations for the field day, Carter may be contacted at: American Pinzgauer Assn., 617 Rock Creek Road, Norman, Oklahoma 78070, phone 405/884-0780.

National Pinzgauer Assn. Convention Set Nov. 14-16

Louisville, Ky. — Plans are being finalized for the national convention, future show and sale of the American Pinzgauer Association to be held at Louisville, the show on Nov. 14 and sale Nov. 15.

One of the unusual aspects of the national convention will be judging of an American Pinzgauer Assn. photo contest to which entries are now open. The only requirement for photographs entered in the contest is that they must include Pinzgauer cattle in the picture. No Polaroid pictures will be accepted for judging, but prizes will be offered in two classes, color and black-white, with $100 for first, $60 for second and $25 for third places in each category, awarded at the banquet Nov. 15.

Both the prints and negatives of all photographs submitted will become property of the American Pinzgauer Assn. for possible use later in advertising and promotion of Pinzgauer cattle. Entries should be mailed to the American Pinzgauer Assn., Emmett Carter, Secretary, Norman, Oklahoma 78070. Carter may be contacted for further information by calling the APA office, 405/884-0780.

On August 3, 1492, Christopher Columbus set sail from Spain, seeking honor and wealth by establishing new trade routes with India. Since he had miscalculated the circumference of the earth by 6,331 miles, he was destined to spend years in a vain search for the mainland of Asia. In 1502 he died poor and forgotten.

American Chianina Assn. Announces New Rules, Herd Book Closure

The National Board of Directors of the American Chianina Association at their spring meeting at the American Chianina Association headquarters, Kansas City, Missouri, voted unanimously to close The Herd Book of the American Chianina Association on December 31, 1979.

The American Chianina Association will be seven years of age on that December 31, 1979 date and at that time in order for a Chianina to be eligible for registration both its sire and dam must be registered in the American Chianina Association. Chianina property registered by a foreign country will continue to be eligible for registration in the American Chianina Association.

The CHI program, which includes the popular Chianina registrations, will be continued without change until it also reaches its seventh anniversary. At that time it, too, will be closed, constituting a complete closure of the American Chianina Association herd book.

In other board action, the national directors voted unanimously to continue the American Chianina Association steer show awards program and passed the following resolution: Resolved, that the American Chianina Association will award five thousand dollars ($5,000) to the owner of any steer registered in the ACA provided said steer is declared the Grand Champion on foot over all champions.
